Bromley College Celebrates Excellence at its Bonfire Night Awards Evening

On Thursday 5 November, Bromley College of Further and Higher Education, held its Annual Awards Evening to showcase the achievements of its students and staff. In total, 32 awards were presented by the Mayor of Bromley, Councillor Kim Botting, in recognition of hard work, dedication and success.

Student award winners were chosen from a diverse range of subject areas, including Business, Hairdressing, Sport, Law and Teaching. Staff winners were chosen from across all areas of the College including its new Technical Academy (for 14-16 year olds) and Hospitality, Food & Enterprise Career College. The winner of Lecturer of the Year was Career College chef lecturer, Danny Davies.

The College was delighted to welcome over 170 guests to the ceremony including Councillor Peter Fortune, the education portfolio holder for Bromley Council. He gave a speech on education, learning and skills provision within the borough. In addition, the event was attended by college governors, education partners and representatives from local businesses.

Sam Parrett, Principal, said:

“Our Awards Evening is all about celebrating the outstanding achievements we have made at Bromley College of Further and Higher Education in the past year. It gives us the opportunity to showcase the broad range of education, learning and skills opportunities we offer; from Apprenticeships to Vocational Courses to Degrees. We are so proud of the successes we have seen. They are testament to the hard work and dedication of our students and staff.”
